INT. SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Principal Wicky tries to calm down the kids.

WICKY

Alright. Ladies! Gentleman
(Holds up Silent Llama)
I can wait.

The kids grow quiet.

WICKY

Now, we have two very friendly officers here who want to talk about staying safe. And about drinking and driving. Now please give your biggest bulldog welcome to Officer Jenkins and Officer Brady.

Some unenthusiastic applause as the officers enter. They are extraordinarily macho. They act like they're taking down a suspect more than talking to a group of kids.

OFFICER JENKINS

Good morning! Good morning! We did have a video to show you today, but unfortunately, it is a 25 year old VHS and it doesn't work anymore. So Officer Brady and I here are going to get a little "creative."

OFFICER BRADY

Creativity is the soul of youth!

OFFICER JENKINS

Now we've heard some rumors, that some of you may be tempted to drink and drive. And as we all know...

OFFICER BRADY

That's big no-no.

OFFICER JENKINS

Can we have an audience volunteer please? Yes... you there, come on up.

Carrie comes on stage. Officer Brady sneaks off into the back really quick.

OFFICER JENKINS

Alright, let's say, little Susie here decides that she can "drink a couple drinks" and "drive fine." Well she can't drive fine. She had a few too many sips of the bud light, and wham! (Maybe a joke about Susie also being a lightweight?)

Officer Brady enters with a pump sprayer and starts covering Carrie in blood. It's gruesome.

OFFICER JENKINS

That smell that tingles your nostrils right now is fresh pigs blood from the butcher at the Marianos.

Carrie is now completely drenched and looks like, well, Carrie.

OFFICER BRADY

Give it up for our audience volunteer.

Carrie leaves the stage. Officer Brady sneaks off again.

OFFICER JENKINS

Now I realize some of you may still not be affected by that image, so Officer Brady and I racked our brains... What is really gonna get through to these kids. So we paid a visit to the local mortuary.

Officer Brady comes out with a tub of bloody bodyparts and starts throwing them into the audience. (Officer Brady: "I don't know whose limbs these are!")

OFFICER JENKINS

When you drink and drive, this what happens to your body. One little sip of the Miller (like this-- takes a sip) can cause all of this damage. (this is a great moment for slapstick-- one of them falls and knocks over a table or something)

The audience is, of course, disgusted.

OFFICER BRADY

I don't think they get it yet, Officer Jenkins.

OFFICER JENKINS

I think you're right Officer Brady. We need one more volunteer today. We're going to have you drink this whole 32 pack of PBR and drive our police cruiser around the campus so you all can see how dangerous it is.

What if they decide to get drunk and then drive around the campus so the kids can see how dangerous it is?

The Principal comes back on stage.

PRINCIPAL

Okay, okay, I think that's enough. Thank you Officer Brady and Officer Jenkins for that, uh, valuable lesson.

OFFICER JENKINS AND OFFICER BRADY

Don't be a flunk! Don't get drunk! Now let's get drunk and show these kids how NOT to drive! (Start shotgunning beers on the stage)

(What if this was a filmed PSA rather than two cops on stage?)

I think PSA would be super cool-- we could edit that in a really fun way i think! I also kind of like the idea of them drinking the whole time to show how bad it is.
